

Stepping Into The New Year With Purpose And Power

FROM THE DESK OF THE CMD

Dear Friends,

Wishing you all a very Happy New Year.

I hope 2025 has been fulfilling for you and your families, and I sincerely pray that 2026 brings good health, happiness, and success to all of us.

As we step into a new year, making resolutions is a natural tradition. At the same time, every passing year reminds us of an important truth time waits for no one. Whether we fully achieve our plans or fall short of some goals, time moves ahead relentlessly, and here we stand at the beginning of another year with renewed opportunities and responsibilities.

At V-Trans, the last couple of quarters have been marked by intense brainstorming followed by decisive actions. Things seem to be returning to normalcy, all systems working and in place, and subsequently better revenue results are expected due to commendable efforts put in by our teams. The Future seems encouraging and I am confident that we will start seeing early and encouraging signs of the desired growth in Q4, from January to March.

December has already given us a positive signal after a long gap, we witnessed healthy revenue numbers at VT and the best ever numbers at VX and VL. This is only the beginning of what I see as a long and sustained upward journey. Our other divisions, V-Xpress and V-Logis, continue to demonstrate promising growth. This is a healthy sign for the Group and reinforces our belief that both verticals will play a significant role in driving overall growth going forward.

The recent unfortunate chaos in the aviation sector is deeply concerning. While it is not our role to judge what went wrong or who was at fault, one message is clear—the consequences of ignoring compliance can be severe. Fortunately, our organization has always been known for its strong statutory compliance and ethical practices. Our internal campaign on SOP adherence aims to align every function and individual with standardized internal processes. This will ensure smoother operations, reduced errors, operational excellence, and enhanced customer delight. Consistent adherence to SOPs builds reliability, discipline, and trust in the organization.

The HR Team led by Mr Shiv Rawat also conducted team building sessions Samanvay at V-Xpress and V-Logis which is an important aspect of our overall L&D strategy. It helps the leadership team to understand their role better and then pass the required message to team thereafter.

As we move into the last quarter of the financial year, strategic discussions around the Annual Operating Plan (AOP) have already begun at all 3 verticals. The V-Trans team carries critical responsibility considering the dismal 25-26 performance we are aiming at aggressive but achievable growth in 26-27. Meanwhile, V-Xpress and V-Logis are building momentum and targeting aggressive year-on-year growth, which is encouraging and motivating. My best wishes to all team members at V-Trans, V-Xpress, and V-Logis as you plan and work towards surpassing your targets. I urge each one of you to maintain a sharp and consistent focus on disciplined execution of our strategies.

Best Wishes,
Mahendra Shah

MOTIVATIONAL STORY

Sameer lived in a small village in the mountains. For many years, he worked in a distant city to earn a living. One day, he decided to return to his village and live a peaceful life. With this thought in mind, he packed his belongings and began his journey home.

His journey started on foot. The path to his remote village was long and difficult. After walking for hours, he reached a big river. Because it was the rainy season, the river was heavily flooded. Sameer could not reach his village without crossing it. Evening was approaching, and he knew he had to reach before it became completely dark. The water level was not going down, so Sameer used his presence of mind. He collected bamboo from the forest and tied them together with strong vines. He built a simple raft and used it to cross the river safely.

After crossing, he felt grateful. “This raft helped me so much,” he thought. Believing it might help again, he tied the raft to his back and continued walking. But soon he reached a dense forest. The path through it was so narrow that only one person could pass at a time. It was impossible to enter the forest while carrying the raft. At that moment, Sameer realized that if he wanted to move forward, he would have to leave the raft behind.

He placed the raft down, took a deep breath, and entered the forest. With determination and courage, he crossed the thick woods and finally reached his village safely.

Moral - To grow in life, we must choose wisely at the right moment. At times, we must release our old comforts so we can step into new opportunities.
